

SECRETARY GAGE PRESSES HIS PLAN

OUTLINES OF HIS IDEAS ON CURRENCY REFORM.

Urges Issue of Gold Bonds—The Redemption of Outstanding Money is Provided For—Favors the Extension of the National Banking System To Small Towns

Washington, Oct. 20.—The following is said, on good authority, to be a summary of Secretary Gage's plan for currency reform, which will be submitted to congress this winter:

The issue of gold bonds, redeemable at the option of the government after twenty and within fifty years, bearing interest at the rate of 2½ per cent; these bonds to be used for refunding the whole present bonded debt of the United States, so far as practicable by exchanging them for outstanding bonds of any issue on an equitable basis, as to interest, also $200,000,000 of them to be sold for cash.

The establishment of a separate bureau in the treasury, to be devoted to and entitled "issue and redemption," a fund of $325,000,000 of gold to be deposited in this bureau, made up of the gold already on hand in the treasury, supplemented by the proceeds of the bond sales just provided for; the bureau to redeem outstanding paper money when offered for that purpose, but to disburse none of this paper money in turn except in exchange for gold.

The extension of the national banking system so as to permit the organization of banks with only $25,000 capital in towns of 4,000 inhabitants or less; the repeal of all the tax on bank circulation, except such amount as may be necessary to pay the cost of supervising the system and creating a safety fund of $5,000,000, which need take only two or three years; authority to the banks to deposit the 2½ per cent refunding bonds and issue notes up to their par value, first to the extent of each bank's capital and then to 25 per cent above that; the government securing itself by its first lien on all the assets of a bank, by a redemption fund of 10 per cent, kept constantly on deposit, as the 5 per cent fund is kept now, and, finally, by the safety fund already mentioned; provision for the redemption of all notes in New York and in other reserve cities if desired and the restriction of bank notes to denominations of $10 and upward, with discretion vested in the secretary of the treasury to issue silver certificates and all government notes in ones, twos, fives and higher denominations, as his best judgment may dictate.

In defense of his plan Secretary Gage stands ready to show that the present annual interest charge of $35,000,000 on the bonded debt of the United States would be reduced to $30,000,000 in spite of the increase in the volume of bonds as proposed in the first paragraph.

The idea of the entire withdrawal of the greenbacks from circulation, the secretary confesses, he has abandoned, not because he does not believe in it, but because he considers it politically impracticable.

FIRES IN OHIO VALLEY.

Terrible Destruction in Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 20.—From all parts of western and central Pennsylvania, eastern Ohio and West Virginia come reports of forest and mountain fires. All the upper Youghiogheny region is in a haze. Across the Youghiogheny river, Limestone hill is a lurid slope of fire, and south of Connellsville the fires are eating up the shrubbery, endangering homes and destroying hundreds of fences and barns. Game of all kinds is fleeing into the valleys.

In the vicinity of Rice Brook, Bedford county, nearly 100 men are fighting the fires. Two oil rigs owned by the South Penn. and Worth Oil companies have been destroyed, and a large tract of timber laid waste. It is estimated that 6,000 acres of timber have been burned in the vicinity of Rice Brook during the last thirty-six hours. William Hodges and his son, who lived on Indian creek, are missing, and it is feared they perished in their cabin.

At the afternoon session the grand lodge rank was conferred upon 200 past-chancellor commanders.

Universalists in Session.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—The biennial convention of the Universalists of the United States and Canada began Tuesday afternoon in the auditorium of St. Paul's church, Prairie avenue and Thirtieth street. After an opening prayer the Rev. A. J. Canfield, pastor of St. Paul's church, welcomed the delegates and briefly outlined the objects of the convention. The Rev. George L. Perin, vice-president of the convention, and well known for his work in the "Every Day Church" of Boston responded to the address of welcome, and also spoke of the work of the convention. He said the convention was to be a council of war—called for the planning of another two-years' campaign.

At night a business session was held. Reports of committees were read.

Wants Hawaii as a State.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 20.—Senator Morgan and his daughter and F. M. Hatch, the new minister from Hawaii, were among the passengers who arrived from Honolulu upon the steamship Belgic Tuesday. Senator Morgan is more than ever enthusiastic on the subject of annexation. He said: "Hawaii is certainly going to be a state, but whether it will be at the time of its annexation or later remains to be seen. If it be annexed as a territory the Hawaiian commissioners will recommend that the islands be admitted to statehood and a special act of congress would undoubtedly follow."

The confusion increased until the chamber became a perfect bedlam. Finally the leftists and the rightists engaged in a hand-to-hand fight.

SPAIN AFFRONT'S GREAT BRITAIN.

The Death of W. Hughes in Cuba May Start Unfriendly Complications.

London, Oct. 20.—The Daily Chronicle commenting upon the death in Cuba last week of W. Hughes, correspondent of Black and White of London, who is said to have starved to death in the streets of Havana after having been maltreated and robbed by a party of Spanish guerrillas, says: "If the story of his death is true, fresh exasperation of Spanish action will arise and the British government may have something to say."

Hughes was found dead on the Prado, Havana, last Thursday night. He had recently visited Pinar del Rio with a pass from the military government. It is said that while there a party of Spaniards robbed him and left him to starve.

Mrs. Barrella had separated from her husband, and at the time of the shooting was a waitress at the Hench hotel. The murderer was a Santa Fe Pacific section foreman. It is thought Rivera was not his real name, but that he was Clemente Rini, whose parents reside at Pajarito. After shooting Mrs. Barrella Rivera tried to escape, but when closely pursued by citizens turned the weapon upon himself and blew out his brains. Jealousy is the only cause assigned for the deed.

LUETGERT VERDICT

IS STILL TO COME

JURY SPENDS THE DAY IN BALLOTING.

Vote Up to 2:30 Said to Stand 8 to 4 For Conviction Just as it Did all Day Yesterday—Men Supposed To Be Holding Out.

Chicago, October 20.—[Special]—The Luetgert jury worked hard all day but up to 2:30 had reached no agreement and it was announced at that time that the vote stood the same as last night 8 to 4 for conviction.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—Eight to four for conviction is said to be the present complexion of the Luetgert jury. Harlev, Holabird, Barber and Behmiller are the men who have caused the deadlock in the jury room.

Stories of bribe-taking were as current as the tales of ballots betrayed to the outside. Two letters addressed to the "Foreman of the Luetgert jury," and signed George Atrill, were opened by Judge Tuthill yesterday. A more circumstantial account of suspicious goings at LeGrand hotel, in which the names of two jurors are coupled with the taking of money, was current downstairs. Inspector Schaack declined to certify its truth, but he frankly admitted that he had detailed men to watch certain of the jurors from their first day of service, and added that his detectives had given him reasons for suspecting some members of the jury. To the Atrill letters neither the prosecution nor defense gave more than a passing thought.

REJECT DALZELL'S OFFER.

Spring Valley Miners Say They Will Hold Out for the Union Scale.

Spring Valley, Ill., Oct. 20.—The scale offered the Spring Valley miners by Mr. Dalzell is 6½ cents below the union scale adopted at the Springfield convention and 25 cents below the rate established for company men. Groups of miners stood about on the corners Tuesday to discuss the proposition, which was denounced, and no further notice will be taken of it, say the leading miners, who will still hold out for the Springfield price or nothing. There is considerable suffering, but no break is expected in the ranks. Almost one-half the miners have left Spring Valley to seek employment in other mines.

The statistics submitted to the general convention show that the membership of the Christian church is now more than 1,000,000. A new work is that of city evangelization, and it is announced that the principal field during the next few years will be Chicago. The work will be in charge of the home missionary department, which has already organized six new churches in that city.

The question of my retirement was not mentioned or suggested, directly or indirectly."

PULLMAN'S DEATH SUDDEN

The Great Car Builder Had Little Warning of the End.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—George M. Pullman had little warning of his death.

GEORGE M. PULLMAN.

He entertained a number of friends last week and personally conducted them around the town of Pullman. The exertion, combined with the extremely hot weather, overtaxed his strength. He told some of his friends that he felt indisposed, but would be perfectly well in a few days. Rev. Dr. Eaton of New York city and his wife were the guests of Mr. Pullman, and the three spent a very happy evening together, the host being in his best spirits and apparently in good health. Mrs. Pullman was in New York, and the only other persons in the mansion were the household servants.

Early in the morning Dr. Eaton was awakened by an unusual noise in Mr. Pullman's room. When he entered he found Mr. Pullman walking the floor in great pain. He assisted him to a couch, and called up Dr. Frank Billings, his family physician, by telephone. When the physician arrived he found Mr. Pullman unconscious and fast sinking. He applied all the known restoratives, but in vain. The patient was suffering from angina pectoris, a disease of the heart, and the doctor soon saw that he had a battle with death. The end came swiftly and calmly.

Telegrams were at once dispatched to Mrs. Pullman and her son, Sanger W., who were in New York city, and to Mrs. Frank Carolan, a daughter, in San Francisco. George M. Pullman, Jr., and Mrs. Frank O. Lowden, who were in the city, were notified, but arrived too late to see their father alive. The news of Mr. Pullman's death came as a shock to his friends and acquaintances in Chicago, and formed the chief topic of conversation at the clubs, hotels, and centers of business. Everywhere expressions of regret were heard, and many were the tributes paid to the memory of the great palace-car builder, who rose by his own exertions from a poor boy to be one of the most famous men in the world.

No arrangements are made yet for the funeral. Mrs. Pullman will determine the time. Mrs. Carolan, a daughter of Mr. Pullman, and her husband, who are on their way from San Francisco, cannot reach here before Friday night, and hence the services are not likely to take place before Saturday.

George M. Pullman had a national reputation as founder of the town of Pullman, where the sleeping car industry that created it had grown so that the works were constantly busy in turning out all kinds of rolling stock for the railroads of the world. In fact, the town of Pullman was the pride and joy of Mr. Pullman's heart. In it was centered all his great business energy and he never tired of talking of it and devising plans to make it still more talked about. The town was the apple of his eye and anything touching its industrial, social or financial destiny enlisted at once his most earnest attention.

George Mortimer Pullman was born in the village of Brocton, Chautauqua county, N. Y., March 3, 1831, and consequently was but a few months more than 66 years of age.

He was not the inventor of the sleeping car, as has been generally believed. He, however, saw in the uncomfortable bed coaches of thirty years ago the possibilities of the modern palace sleeping car of today, and at once set about to carry out his ideas, and from that day, in the summer of 1858, Mr. Pullman labored on this one idea until he gradually gave to the world the Pullman palace sleeping car, which has carried his name to the bounds of civilization.

Feb. 22, 1867, Pullman's Palace Car company was organized under the laws of the state of Illinois to engage in the sleeping and parlor car business; also in manufacturing all kinds of railway cars. Since then it has so increased that it now ranks as one of the largest and most important manufacturing plants of any nature in the world. Its cars run over 100,000 miles of rail in America, Europe, and the Orient. More than 12,000 men are employed by the company.

Port Huron, Mich., Oct. 20.—The forest fires in Sanilac, Huron and St. Clair counties are very dangerous to navigation, and masters of vessels report that it is with difficulty that they can navigate their boats. Lake Huron is covered with a thick smoke, and it is feared some of the boats now out will have a hard time getting in.

DEMAND FREEDOM AND NOTHING LESS

CUBAN LEADERS SCOFF AT AU'TONOMY TALK.

Leaders of the Island Forces Say the Time Has Passed When Any Compromise Can Be Accepted—Interview With Colonel Johnston in St. Louis.

St. Louis, Oct. 20.—Col. Johnston of the Cuban army in an interview says:

"Autonomy? No; nothing but absolute freedom. We have 60,000 men under arms in Cuba. Virtually the whole island, except Havana, Matanzas, and Cienfuegos, is in our hands. We could take Havana by means of dynamite, but we would have to notify the foreign consuls, who, of course, would notify the enemy, else we should blow up our friends."

"At a meeting of representatives of the whole army, of the east and of the west, as late as Oct. 4, at Holguin, at which I was present, and which has not yet been mentioned in the papers, it was reiterated that Cuba would accept nothing but absolute freedom. It is a waste of time for the United States to deal with Spain relative to granting autonomy, or anything else short of absolute freedom."

"What we want of the United States is the granting of belligerent rights. With that, in less than seventy-two hours we would have, out of the various ports of the United States, forty-two vessels flying the Cuban flag. With belligerent rights the island will be free before Dec. 31 of this year. Without recognition we shall still be free before March of next year."

Explosion in Fuse Works.

San Francisco, Oct. 20.—The fall of a cup in the electrical room of the Colma fuse works, just before the closing of the works at 5:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, caused a jar which broke several electrical appliances and so shook the building that an explosion followed, in which Mary Beck was killed, a Chinese employe fatally injured, and another Chinese badly hurt. Twelve other employes were injured—eight seriously and four slightly. The remains of the dead girl have not yet been recovered, and it is believed that they were burned. The works are half a mile from the settlement of Colma, which is twelve miles from this city.

Millionaires Control Honduras.

New York, Oct. 20.—The Honduras syndicate, composed of the Vanderbilts, has assumed control of Honduras. The national banks and the customs house are in the syndicate's hands. In return the syndicate will liquidate the debt of the country. In this move is seen the latest tendency of capital to control everything. From the control of prices of staple products it is now seeking to control governments.

APPEARANCES SELL MANY GROCERIES

N. C. FOWLER'S ADVICE TO RETAILERS.

The Public Seeing Side of Business—
As We Appear to be So Are We Judged—Merchants Must Look
At Things From Customers' Point Of View.

(Copyright, 1897, by Nathl C. Fowler, Jr.)
Mother used to say that beauty was but skin deep.

Mother was right from her uncommercial viewpoint.

Mother lived in the atmosphere of her own old-fashioned honest home town, where the real was reckoned as worthy because it was real.

In mother's good old days the conventional wolf in sheep's clothing was seldom taken for a lamb.

The truth stood for the truth, and the lie stood for the lie, and competition was mainly, honest and clean.

The science of artificiality and the modern art of sham were too poorly compounded to pass for the genuine.

I am speaking from the platform of present conditions. It may be that the planks are rickety, and perhaps the beams are weak, but what is, is, until it is not, and modern success must win the battle of the present by recognizing the present forces, armed with present weapons.

As we seem to be, so we are in the buying public's eye.

The quantity and quality of business are reflected by the face of trade.

What a thing is does not always count unless it appears to be what it is.

The outside is outside.

The inside is inside.

Folks must see the outside before they see the inside, and the inside will be commercially reckoned by the looks of the outside.

The selling value of a thing is often as much in the appearance of it, and in the serving of it, as it is in the thing itself.

Food is food, but the digestion of food depends not only upon the nutriment of the food itself, but upon the appetizing appearance of it, and the better it looks, the better it is served, and the better its environment, the better it will digest, and the more the good of it will be absorbed by the system.

As it is with food, and the eating of it, so it is with goods and the selling of them.

Clothes don't make the man, but,
oh, how they help.

The well dressed man, all things being equal, will sell more goods and do more business than will the shabby fellow.

In the combination of good goods and good appearances is good business.

Examination is suggested by appearances, and without appearances examination may never be made, and the intrinsic value may never float to the surface.

The appearance of business stands for business.

The woman always, and the man almost always, prefer to buy of the busy seller.

People crowd into the crowded theatre.

The crowded store is always attractive.

Everybody wants what everybody wants, and everybody goes where everybody goes.

The old Biblical command against hiding one's light under a bushel is today a law of business.

What is the good of unknown good?
What good does it do to store good and not exhibit it?

What is the good of the good if people do not know how good it is and where to buy it?

In these days of fierce competition and superlative excellence the public has learned to value appearances not as a bait but as a guarantee of quality.

The public, and especially the woman side of it, has confidence in the seller who proves that he has confidence in himself by first giving the public what it wants, and second by serving it to the public taste, and third, by conspicuously announcing the advantages he has to offer.

The great chain of business has five indispensable links.

The first link is something worth selling.

The second link is a good place to sell that something in.

The third link is good salesmen.

The fourth link is good appearances.

The fifth link is good advertising.

I care not which is the most important of the five, for no four can exist without the fifth, and unto each must be rendered all that each is entitled to.

In the harmony of all five is successful business.

SON GETS $2,000 FOR WORK

Martin Hanson Recovers From the Peter Hanson Habberstadt Estate.

Martin Hanson secured a $2,000 judgment in Judge Sale's court against the estate of Peter Hanson Habberstadt, his father, yesterday. The defendant was a rich farmer in the town of Porter, who died last fall leaving an estate valued at $15,000.

Martin worked for his father for a number of years but aroused ill feeling in the family by dropping his last name and signing himself Hanson.

When his father's estate was settled
he put in a claim for services rendered on the farm after his twenty-first year. He showed fourteen years of work since he became of age and secured a verdict in his favor. Feth-ers, Jeffris, Fifeid & Mount appeared in his behalf. Smith & Pierce appeared for the defendant.

WINDOW, GLASS IS GOING UP

An Advance of 5 Per Cent and a Second Raise For Nov. 1.

An advance of 5 per cent in window glass was ordered yesterday to take effect at once and the trade was notified of another advance of not less than 5 per cent to take effect Nov. 1.

Secretary B. W. Elsenrath of the jobbers' association said: "Conditions are very similar to 1879, when an early shut down and a strike forced prices up 100 per cent. It does not look now as if there would be much new glass available this year, as the differences of the men among themselves as well as with the manufacturers are still unsettled."

POOR MONTH FOR PHYSICIANS

Cool Bracing Atmosphere Serves as a Sort Of Refreshing Tonic.

Physicians are having a dull month.
October on account of the cool bracing air is a ways considered a "good"
month from the sanitary standpoint, while doctors look on it as "poor."

"I never figure on much business during the month of October," said a local doctor, "for all an invalid has to do these days is to take a drive. There is tonic enough in the air for most people."

Violating State Game Laws.

The two young men arrested at Lake Koshkonong by a Dane county game warden have been discharged. The arrested men were charged with shooting from a blind set out in clear water.
Game Warden Alarson satisfied himself that the blind was placed amid gases and wild rice and therefore stopped the prosecution.

M'ADAMS WILL SUE FOR BEING JAILED

EWING IS ALIVE, AND PRIS-ONER IS ANGRY.

He Means to Call Milton Junction
People to Account for Getting Out
The Complaint—Lawrence Wilbur
And C. H. Cadwallader Not the Same Man.

Whoever was found dead in the Newville woods July 6, 1895, it was not William Ewing. That at least is the conclusion to be drawn from a dispatch received by Chief Hogan.

The chief has been telegraphing to Pennsylvania towns trying to get some information. In the grip that Ewing left in Milton Junction were some photographs marked Indiana, Pennsylvania, and Salsburg, Pennsylvania. From John Malcom, chief of police of Indiana, Pa., he received this reply:

"William Ewing not known here."

From J. H. Miller, chief of police at Salsburg, Pa., came this reply:

"William Ewing is not here today.
He is away."

The latter message would indicate that he was a resident of that city,
but was not at home.

Chief Hogan has made no further inquiries but George McAdams, the prisoner's brother says that he will go to Pennsylvania if necessary and bring Ewing back here.

WILL SUE FOR DAMAGES

Another thing he is determined to have done and that is to make somebody explain his brother's arrest. He refuses to credit any explanation of Mrs. Hurd's statement to the authorities but does not hold the Hurd's entirely responsible for causing his brother's arrest. He thinks that other Milton parties of much more importance in the community had a hand in the affair and threatens several suits for damages.

George McAdams got home yesterday afternoon from Savanah, Illinois, where he went to see Fred Kiley who is claimed to have been in the wagon with McAdams and Ewing. Kiley said he knew nothing whatever of the matter and was willing to come here and testify at any time. Abiet, the other man mentioned says he was never in a vehicle with McAdams in his life. McAdams' examination is set for tomorrow. His discharge is believed to be certain.

Wilbur Was Not Cadwallader

Another case of mistaken identity develops in the Lawrence Wilbur case, as the Janesville police prophesied yesterday afternoon. The picture of the $50,000 Indiana defaulter was received by Sheriff Acheson last evening and showed a man weighing about 190 pounds. The description called for a man man thirty-three years of age with black moustache.

Wilbur was a much smaller man and did not answer the description in any respect. It is supposed that Cadwal-lader had traveled under the name of Wilbur somewhere, and that when a man named Wilbur and claiming to be from St. Louis, was arrested in Janesville, the St. Louis police made up their minds that he was the fugitive.

The city council of Racine has decided to hire an attorney to conduct who sued the city for wages due as an

In the circuit court at Antigo three boys of that city, are on trial on a charge of attempting to wreck a passenger train. They attempted to steal a ride on a freight train and were put off. A short time after a farmer discovered a pile of ties on the track.

The buggy in which Harry Hayward of Minneapolis killed his victim, Catharine Ging, is said to be the property at the present time of an Eau Claire man. After the murder the buggy was put on exhibition for a time, but people soon tired of it and then it was found impossible to sell it to Minneapolis people. It has finally found its way to the present owner, who paid $50 for it.

D. I. DORN of Merrill was taken ill at Marshfield recently. He sent home for some medicine that he had been in the habit of taking similar attacks.
The bottle arrived in due time and he had taken a dose and was asleep on his bed when he was aroused to receive a telegram from his wife stating that the bottle she had sent contained laudanum. Prompt action on the part of physicians saved his life.

The Mendota club of Madison, which owns hunting rights at the outlet of Lake Mendota, have brought and John Niebhur for trespassing.

The hearing has been set for Monday and a temporary injunction has been secured to keep the men from hunting until then. The land owned by the club is a particularly good place for duck hunting.

TAXES THAT WE OVERLOOK

Heavy Assessments That Few Think of Trying to Avoid.

Taxes are lighter in Rock county than in many counties in the state but they are heavier than they need be. In town-meetings two or three kind of taxes are overlooked.

The hill tax is produced by running roads in straight lines over hills with grades of ten to fifteen feet in one hundred, instead of following valleys, skirting hills and keeping as close as possible to a four per cent. grade.

The square corner tax is common on the prairies and in level districts. It consists in traveling, for instance, seven miles north, and then seven miles east to reach a point that is but ten miles northeast in a straight line.
The average distance added in this way between any two points throughout the country is twenty per cent.

The mud tax is due to having soft roads insufficiently drained, and generally "repaired" by having the sod, stones and earth from the gutters thrown on them once a year when road taxes are being worked out.

The wagon wheel tax is caused by the use of vehicles having narrow tires, with rear wheels following in the track of the front pair, and thereby always tending to cut up the road surface.

The good roads tax is the profit accruing to the farmers and all other persons using the roads from the removal of the above self-imposed taxes.

GROVES FULL OF NUTTERS

Farmers Begin to Show Feeling Over the Invasion.

Farmers are considerably exercised over the damage done by nutting parties this fall.

Sunday is the worst day in the week. Vehicles of every description can be seen on the highways leading into the country and the different members of the party who cannot find room to ride in the vehicle take a bicycle. The majority of them pay no more attention to the owners of the land than they would to a squirrel in a tree. Sometimes men, women and boys enter a hickory grove and skin it of every nut in sight and when the owner of the land remonstrates he is laughed at, abused and often threatened with personal violence.

MORE WALK IS RE-LAID

Court House Park Job Requires Considerable Work—Profits Vanish.

When Contractor Rice gets that cement walk in the court house park righted he will wonder about his profits on the job. Yesterday afternoon his men commenced the removal of another portion of the walk on the north end where it had settled below
the established grade. Alderman J.
B. McLean was on hand to offer suggestions that would console the workmen. Contractor Rice has not shirked any responsibility in the matter and says he intends to have the walk right before he leaves it.

A "PAPER CITY" TOO NOISY

Company Did Not Have a Chance to Show
Its Quality.

"A Paper City" presented at the Myers House last night depends largely for its success upon the specialties.
These are superior to the body of the company. Elois Willard took four parts and won applause although there was a general feeling that she should have a better medium for her talents.
Monica Leech Farley, formerly of this city, played the part of Mrs. Feather O'Duster with much credit.

ALL WATCH MURDER CASE.

Milton Junction Had Heard Rumors About Ewing's Disappearance.

(THE GAZETTE AGENCY
W. W. CLARKE, Manager,
Milton Junction, Oct. 19, 1897.)

The main topic of conversation in town is of course the arrest of Fred McAdams on the charge of murdering Will Ewing two years ago. However McAdams' friends are strong in their declarations of his innocence. A strong lecture course was organized at the school house Monday night. A stock company was formed with twenty five shares at $3.00 each. The officers are: Pres., Rev. A. W. Stephens; Secy., Prof. Healey; Treas., Dr. E. S. Hull. They intend to have a course of five or six lectures or entertainments. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clarke visited at Walworth Saturday of this week. The Y. P. S. C. E. held a very enjoyable social at Eldon Cottrell's, Saturday night. Milton Clarke of Walworth is in town at work at carpenter work. The Kelly block is up one story and rapidly getting along. It will be a very handsome building. Fred Burdick and family will move to Janesville for the winter. He works in a cigar factory there. A PECULIAR REMEDY.
Something About the New Discovery for Curing Dyspepsia.

The Rev. F. I. Bell, a highly esteemed minister residing in Weedsport, Cayuga Co., N. Y., in a recent letter writes as follows: "There has never been anything that I have taken that has relieved the Dyspepsia from which I suffered for ten years except the new remedy called Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Since taking them I have had no distress at all after eating and again after long rests can sleep well. Rev. F. I. Bell Weedsport, N. Y., formerly of Idaho, Colo. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is a remarkable remedy, not only because it is a certain cure for all forms of indigestion, but because it seems to act as thoroughly in old chronic cases of Dyspepsia as well as in mild attacks of indigestion or biliousness. A person has dyspepsia simply because the stomach is overworked, all it wants is a harmless, vegetable remedy to digest the food and thus give it the much needed rest. This is the secret of the success of this peculiar remedy. No matter how weak or how much disordered the digestion may be, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest the food whether the stomach works or not. New life and energy is given not only to the stomach but to every organ and nerve in the body. A trial of this splendid medicine will convince the most skeptical that Dyspepsia and all stomach troubles can be cured. The tablets are prepared by the Stuart Chemical Co., of Marshall, Mich., but so popular has the remedy become that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can now be obtained at any drug store at 50 cents per package. Send for look on stomach diseases free.

FORWARD THE LIGHT.

Maryland until recently has been for many years a reliably democratic state. Along until 1895, when Lowndes was elected governor, it ordinarily had no favors for the republicans in important elections. McKinley was the first republican presidential candidate who ever secured an electoral vote from Maryland except Lincoln in the election of 1864.

Yet nobody need be surprised if the republican victories in Maryland in 1895 and 1896 should mark that state's permanent break with the democracy. It should be remembered that Maryland was one of the original democratic states. In the early days of the nation Maryland was federalist rather than democratic. It went to the democrats, of course, after the federalist party died, for it had no other place to go, but when the other anti-democratic parties—the national republican and the whig—appeared, Maryland turned to them, and except in 1852, when the whig party was on the point of death, it did not, from 1832 give an electoral vote to a democratic candidate, though it elected a few democratic governors. Even in 1856, after the whig party had disappeared, Maryland gave its electoral vote to Fillmore, the know-nothing, instead of Buchanan, the democrat. In 1860 Bell, the constitutional union negationist, came within less than 1,000 votes of capturing the state from Breckinridge. Tradition and sentiment do not draw Maryland strongly toward the democracy, and nothing but the history of the state from 1861 to 1865 gives the democratic party the advantage. There is a chance that that state may be held by the republican permanently.

Much sympathy will be felt for the South Carolina official who has rushed into print concerning certain charges against himself, and says: "I did take treatment at the Keeley institute for the morphine habit, contracted in 1891, at the earnest solicitation of my wife and physicians." Any man whose wife and physicians will "earnestly solicit" him to acquire the morphine habit is clearly to be exonerated from responsibility in the matter.

Secretary Wilson tells farmers that they must raise pigs for bacon, not for weight, if they want to sell in the European market. Canadian bacon sells for 14 cents in London while Wisconsin and Illinois bacon sells for 6 cents. Farmers can remedy this by raising a better breed of hogs and feeding carefully instead of crowding in corn to make weight quickly.

The popocrats who roared so loudly against monopolies last fall elected a representative in Texas who dropped 6550 cases against a railroad in the state as an offset to a minimum fine inflicted in only fifty cases. On the stump the popocrat has always been strong against monopolies, but in office he favors them as violators of law at the expense of the people.

There are six candidates for mayor of Greater New York on reform tickets. It may be remarked with reasonable safety that the situation is complicated and that several kinds of reform are in the market.

McAdams' idea is that it would have been better to find whether Ewing had been murdered before bothering him about the affair.

Spain has paid one line of steamers plying between Spain and Havana $14,000,000 for carrying troops. That

The only distress populists are able to find in the country is felt by their own leaders over what the future has in store for their party.

There being no nomination after two days' balloting, Mr. Luetgert is said to favor the selection of a compromise candidate.

Y. M. C. A. WANTS A SEWER

Connection With the C. & N. W. Drain Is Under Consideration.

An effort is being made toward connecting the Y. M. C. A. sewer with the C. & N. W. sewer. A large cess pool now serves to carry off the drainage from the building. Connection with the railroad sewer would cost but little and it will be made if the C. & N. W. officials will consent.

The fact that Secretary Kline has not yet completed his work in Kaskaskia makes it impossible for him to begin the organization of the Janesville work next week as had been hoped. He will locate here permanently in the near future but the date is not yet certain. In any event it will be later than November 7.

NO SHED IN FIRE LIMITS

A. E. Atkins Is Warned Against Violating the City Ordinances

A. E. Atkins, who recently purchased the Arnold second hand store on South Franklin street, was notified today that he was violating the city fire ordinance by erecting a wooden frame structure within the fire limits. He explained to Chief Spencer that he was merely erecting a high board fence on all sides of his narrow lot with a floor bottom and that he did not intend to roof it.

BEYOND THE CARES OF LIFE

George Ehrlinger.

The funeral of George Ehrlinger was held in the Lutheran church in Hanover, and was very largely attended. There were a number of large floral pieces, some of the flowers being from Janesville friends.

Rev. Mr. Miller, of Hanover officiated and the pall bearers were: F. Plentz, F. C. Uehling, F. Bleedorn, J. Ellis, J. F. Ehrlinger and Thomas Hemmingsway. The interment was in Plymouth cemetery.

George Tigue

George Tigue, a former resident of Clinton died in British Columbia last week. He had been residing in Wyoming but had started for the Klondike in search of gold. While in British Columbia he was taken with typhoid fever. His wife was notified and reached his bedside before he died. He was a cousin of James Hogan of this city.

NO LOSS IS LIKELY TO DEPOSITORS

EDGERTON BANK AFFAIRS UNDER INVESTIGATION.

L. H. Towne Has Been Appointed Receiver and Is Preparing a Report On the Assets and Liabilities—How the Stock is Divided—Explanation of Failure.

A tip was made to Monroe last night and an order was secured from Judge Bennett appointing L. H. Towne receiver of the Bank of Edgerton. The appointment was made on petition of Henry Marsden one of the stockholders.

Receiver Towne has been at work all day looking into the resources of the bank. It cannot be determined yet what the losses will be but it is not anticipated that the loss to stockholders will be large. It is hoped that there will be no loss to depositors.

A little delay will be necessary before the receiver can get the matter in condition to determine what will be done. The stockholders of the bank are as follows:

Martha Hutson Estate.....	$17,500
C. L. Burnham.....	8,500
John Hurd.....	4,000
Thomas Thurston.....	4,000
Henry Marsden.....	3,000
J. P. Towne.....	2,000
J. J. Pierson.....	2,000
L. H. Page.....	2,000
W. W. Williams.....	2,000
R. C. Carter.....	2,000
Estate of J. J. Son.....	1,000
Estate of L. F. Morgan.....	1,000
M. E. Church.....	500
Fulton Lodge, F. and A. M.....	500

The bank was incorporated in 1880 with a capital stock of $50,000. There is a surplus of $10,000.

The newly elected city treasurer has the city funds tied up in the bank.

The Sentinel today says:

"The last statement made to the state bank examiner showed that there was due depositors $148,381.86. The bank had the confidence of the community and a good business was done. The discovery that unfortunate speculations made by the management some years ago and shortage carefully covered up on the books and carried along sufficiently to impair the bank's capital has led to the determination to ask for a receiver."

W. F. WILLIAMS HAS RESIGNED

E. V. Whiton Succeeds Him in the Municipal Court Clerkship

W. F. Williams gave up his position as clerk of the municipal court today. Ill health made it impossible for him to discharge the duties of the position, and forced him to give up the responsibility. His resignation was much regretted by all those about the court. Mr. Williams has been an especially efficient officer, his experience in other public positions having been of great value to him and to those having business in the court. His successor is E. V. Whiton who is thoroughly competent to discharge the duties of the clerkship and who received many congratulations today when the news of his appointment was made public.

NAME MISS COTTING FOR HEAD OF W. C. T. U.

ELECTION HELD AT TODAY'S SESSION.

Mayor Thoroughgood Was to Have Delivered an Address of Welcome But Confusion In Making up The Programme Put Arrangement Committee at Sea

When the W. C. T. U. convention was planned Mayor Thoroughgood was notified that the union would be very glad to have him deliver the address of welcome. The fact that the mayor did not take part in the opening exercises, therefore occasioned considerable comment. It seems to have grown out of a misunderstanding between the local union and the state executive committee who made up the program. The mayor's name was not on the program and he supposed that it must be intended that he should take no part and acted accordingly.

UNITED AT THE ALTAR

Welsh-Shekey.

At St. Mary's church at 8 o'clock this morning the wedding of John F. Welsh, of Koshkonong and Miss Francis Shekey of this city was celebrated. Rev. Father Roche tied the nuptial knot, Joseph Shekey acting as best man while Miss Bertha E. Schmidley made a charming bridesmaid.

Immediately following the ceremony the happy couple were driven to the Center avenue home of the bride's sister, —Mrs. M. C. Seitz—where a wedding breakfast was served, only relatives and a few intimate friends being present. On the noon train Mr. and Mrs. Welsh departed for their future home amid an abundance of rice and good wishes. The bride has numerous friends in the city, while the groom, who is a farmer living near Koshkonong, is highly regarded for many sterling qualities.

Erbeau-Beyers.

Miss Katherine Byers formerly of this city was united in marriage Oct. 18 to Julius E. Erbeau. The ceremony was performed in Chicago by Rev. R. A. Torrey. The ring service was used and the ceremony was very impressive. The bride wore a Russian blouse novelty suit and bride and groom left at once on a brief wedding trip.

The groom is a detective at the East Chicago Ave. station while the bride has been a resident of Chicago for the last two years only, having formerly made this city her home and having many friends among Janesville young people.

The "City of Jerusalem."

One of the rarest exhibitions ever shown in this city is now to be seen in the old "Bee Hive" block No. 33 W. Milwaukee street. The grand old and historic city is represented by an elaborate mechanical model of the temples, palaces and buildings, built in marble and gold, while the figures of people and vehicles move about the streets as in real life. The Temple of Herod, with its "Holy of Holies," and its famous walls and courts; the "Tower of Antonio," where Christ was tried before Pilot; Mt. Calvary where he was crucified; Mt. of Olives and all the principal features of eighteen centuries ago, are here reproduced in the most superb and realistic manner. You see the smith at his forge, the people at their different occupations, all life like and moved by the great modern power, electricity. You see Christ and the chosen twelve traveling from Capernaum to Jerusalem. They meet the funeral of the "Widow's Son," and the entire miracle is enacted by twenty six mechanical figures as real as if performed on a stage with living performers. All this and many more beautiful things are shown on a brilliant and dazzling scale that is absolutely enchanting. And all this can be seen for the small fee of ten cents. Every one should take their ladies and children and see the masterpiece. It is an object lesson in sacred history worth dollars instead of cents. The place will be open from 10 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 10 p. m. for one week.

FIFTY YEAR MARK

IN DIOCESAN LIFE

MISSION COUNCIL MARKS AN ANNIVERSARY.

Half a Century Ago Milwaukee Was Established As a Diocese—Delegates Represent Christ and Trinity Churches—Some of the Work That Is Laid Out.

Janesville sent quite a delegation to the National Missionary council of the Protestant Episcopal church in Milwaukee. Among those who went from Trinity church were: Rev. W. H. Wotten, Harry E. Ransom and J. C. Fox, while from Christ church went Rev. A. H. Barrington, Mrs. W. M. Eldredge, Mrs. John J. R. Pease, Miss Augusta Ruger, Miss Mary Pease.

Nearly 250 of the leading divines of the Episcopal church of the country, including thirty bishops from all sections of the country are in attendance at the missionary council.

The interest of the Episcopalians in the gathering is unusually great, due in a measure to the fact that the fiftieth anniversary of the establishment of Milwaukee as a diocese will be commemorated and that the remains of one of the greatest missionaries of the church in the northwest, those of Rev. Dr. J. Lloyd Breck, will be interred at Nashotah, the scenes of his early labors.

The matters to be considered at the gathering and upon which the numerous addresses will be delivered, refer only to the great work of the church in missionary fields, both at home and in foreign lands, and reports of the accomplishments in this direction during the present year will be laid before the conference, and plans will be outlined for extending this branch of effort at home and abroad.

There are missionaries present from across the sea, and they will tell of their trials and victories in spreading the light of christianity, and incidentally narrate many interesting stories concerning the lands and the people among which their labors have been spent.

THE WISTFUL DAYS.

What is there wanting in the spring?
The air is soft as yesterday.

The happy nestled green is here,
And half the world is on the wing.
The morning beckons, and, like balm,
Are westward waters blue and calm,
Yet something's wanting in the spring.

What is it wanting in the spring?
O April, love to us all!

What is so poignant in thy thrall
When children's merry voices ring?
What haunts us in the cooing dove
More subtle than the speech of love,
What nameless lack or loss of spring?

Let youth go daily with the spring,
Call her the dear, the fair, the young,
And all her graces ever sung
Let him, once more rehearsing, sing
They know who keep a broken trust
Till something from the spring be missed
We have not truly known the spring.

—Robert Underwood Johnson in New York Sun.

VENGEFUL IN DEATH.

On a certain day I received a letter from a private soldier named Gratmar, attached to the garrison of San Francisco. I had known him but slightly, the acquaintance having come about through his interest in some stories which I had published, and which he had a way of calling "psychological studies." He was a dreamy, romantic, fine grained lad, proud as a tiger lily and sensitive as a bluebell. What mad caprice led him to join the army I never knew, but I did know that there he was wretchedly out of place, and I foresaw that his rude and repellent environment would make of him in time a deserter or a suicide or a murderer. The letter at first seemed a wild outpouring of despair, for it informed me that before it should reach me its author would be dead by his own hand. But when I had read further I understood its spirit and realized how coolly formed a scheme it disclosed and how terrible its purport was intended to be. The worst of the contents was the information that a certain officer (whom he named) had driven him to the deed, and that he was committing suicide for the sole purpose of gaining thereby the power to revenge himself upon his enemy. I learned afterward that the officer had received a similar letter.

This was so puzzling that I sat down to reflect upon the young man's peculiarities. He had always seemed somewhat uncanny and had I proved more sympathetic he doubtless would have gone further and told me of certain problems which he professed to have solved concerning the life beyond this. One thing that he had said came back vividly, "If I could only overcome that purely gross and animal love of life that makes us all shun death, I would kill myself, for I know how far more powerful I could be in spirit than in flesh."

The manner of the suicide was startling, and that was what might have been expected from this odd character. Evidently scorning the flummery of funerals, he had gone into a little canyon near the military reservation and blown himself into a million fragments with dynamite, so that all of him that was found was some minute particles of flesh and bone.

I kept the letter a secret, for I desired to observe the officer without rousing his suspicion of my purpose. It would be an admirable test of a dead man's power and deliberate intention to haunt the living, for so I interpreted the letter. The officer thus to be punished was an oldish man, short, apoplectic, overbearing and irascible. Generally he was kind to most of the men in a way, but he was gross and mean, and that explained sufficiently his harsh treatment of young Gratmar, whom he could not understand, and his efforts to break that flighty young man's spirit.

Not very long after the suicide certain modifications in the officer's conduct became apparent to my watchful oversight. His choleric, though none the less sporadic, developed a quality which had some of the characteristics of senility, and yet he was still in his prime and passed for a sound man. He was a bachelor and had lived always alone, but presently he began to shirk solitude at night and court it in daylight. His brother officers chaffed him, and thereupon he would laugh in rather a forced and silly fashion quite different from the ordinary way with him, and would sometimes, on these occasions, blush so violently that his face would become almost purple. His soldierly alertness and sternness relaxed surprisingly at times and at others were exaggerated into unnecessary acerbity, his conduct in this regard suggesting that of a drunken man who knows that he is drunk and who now and then makes a brave effort to appear sober. All these things and more, indicating some mental strain or some dreadful apprehension, or perhaps something worse than either, were observed partly by me and partly by an intelligent officer whose watch upon the man had been secured by me.

To be more particular, the afflicted man was observed often to start suddenly and in alarm, look quickly round and make some unintelligent monosyllabic answer, seemingly to an inaudible question that no visible person had asked. He acquired the reputation, too, of having taken lately to nightmares, for in the middle of the night he would shriek in the most dreadful fashion, alarming his roommates prodigiously. After these attacks he would sit up in bed, his ruddy face devoid of color, his eyes glassy and shining, his breathing broken with gasps and his body wet with a cold perspiration.

Knowledge of these developments and transformations spread throughout the garrison, but the few (mostly women) who dared to express sympathy or suggest a tonic encountered so violent rebuffs that they blessed heaven for escaping alive from his word volleys. Even the garrison surgeon, who had a kindly manner, and the commanding general, who was constructed on dignified and impressive lines, received little thanks for their solicitude. Clearly the doughty old officer, who had fought like a bulldog in two wars and a hundred battles, was suffering deeply from some undetectable malady.

The next extraordinary thing which he did was to visit one evening (not so clandestinely as to escape my watch) a spirit medium—extraordinary because he always had scoffed at the idea of spirit communications. I saw him as he was leaving the medium's rooms. His face was purple, his eyes were bulging and terrified, and he tottered in his walk. A policeman, seeing his distress, advanced to assist him, whereupon the soldier hoarsely begged:

"Call a hack."

Into it he fell and asked to be driven to his quarters. I hastily ascended to the medium's rooms and found her lying unconscious on the floor. With my aid, she recalled her wits, but her conscious state was even more alarming than the other. At first she regarded me with terror and cried:

"It is horrible for you to haunt him so!"

I assured her that I was haunting no one.

"Oh, I thought you were the spirit—mean—I—oh, but it was standing exactly where you are!" she exclaimed.

"I suppose so," I agreed, "but you can see that I am not the young man's spirit. However, I am familiar with this whole case, madam, and if I can be of any service in the matter I should be glad if you will inform me. I am aware that our friend is persecuted by a spirit, which visits him frequently, and I am positive that through you it has informed him that the end is not far away and that our elderly friend's death will assume some terrible form. Is there anything that I can do to avert the tragedy?"

The woman stared at me in a horrified silence. "How do you know these things?" she gasped.

"That is immaterial. When will the tragedy occur? Can I prevent it?"

"Yes, yes!" she exclaimed. "It will happen this very night, but no earthly power can prevent it."

She came close to me and looked at me with an expression of the most acute terror.

"Merciful God! What will become of me? He is to be murdered, you understand—murdered in cold blood by a spirit—and he knows it, and I know it! If he is spared long enough, he will tell them at the garrison, and they will all think that I had something to do with it. Oh, this is terrible, terrible, and yet I dare not say a word in advance—nobody there would believe in what the spirits say, and they will think that I had a hand in the murder!"

"Be assured that he will say nothing about it," I said, "and if you keep your tongue from wagging you need fear nothing."

With this and a few other hurried words of comfort I soothed her and hastened away.

For I had interesting work on hand. It is not often that one may be in such a murder as that. I ran to a livery stable, secured a swift horse, mounted him and spurred furiously for the reservation. The back, with its generous start, had gone far on its way, but my horse was nimble, and his legs felt the pricking of my eagerness. A few miles of this furious pursuit brought me within sight of the back just as it was crossing a dark ravine near the reservation. As I came nearer I imagined that the back swayed somewhat and that a fleeing shadow escaped from it into the tree banked farther wall of the ravine. I certainly was not in error with regard to the swaying, for it had roused the dull notice of the driver. I saw him turn, with an air of alarm in his action, and then pull up with a heavy swing upon the reins. At this moment I dashed up and halted.

"Anything the matter?" I asked.

"I don't know," he answered, getting down. "I felt the carriage sway, and I see that the door's wide open. Guess my load thought he'd sobered up enough to get out and walk without troubling me or his pocketbook."

Meanwhile I, too, had alighted. Then I struck a match, and by its light we discovered through the open door the "load" huddled confusedly on the floor of the back, face upward and looking altogether vulgar, misshapen and miserably unlike a soldier. It neither moved nor spoke when we called. We hastily clambered within and lifted him upon the seat, but his head rolled about with an awful looseness and freedom, and another match disclosed a ghastly dead face and wide open eyes that stared horribly at nothing.

"You had better drive the body to headquarters," I said.

Instead of following I cantered back to town, hauled my horse and went straightway to bed, and this will prove to be the first information that I was the "mysterious man on a horse" whom the coroner could never find.

About a year afterward I received the following letter—which is observed to be in fair English—from Stockholm:

DEAR SIR:—For some years I have been reading your remarkable psychological studies with great interest, and I take the liberty to suggest a theme for your able pen. I have just found in a library here a newspaper dated about a year ago, in which is an account of the mysterious death of a military officer in a back.

Then followed the particulars as I have already detailed them, and the very theme of post mortem revenge which I have adopted in this setting out of facts. More extraordinary still is his suggestion that in the dynamite explosion a dog or a quarter of beef might as well have been employed as a suicide minded man; that, in short, the man might not have killed himself at all, but might have employed a presumption of such an occurrence to render more effective a physical persecution ending in murder by the living man, who posed as a spirit. The letter even suggested an arrangement with a spirit medium.

The only remaining disclosure that I am prepared to make is that my correspondent signed himself "Ramtarg," an odd sounding name, but for all I know it may be respectable in Sweden.—Exchange.

Terrible Deficiency of Wheat Abroad.

America to Supply the World
Late advices from Washington, based on reports of governments, report that the shortage in the world's wheat crop will reach the starvation figure of 12,000,000 bushels. America is relied upon to supply the deficiency out of our grand product of $60,000,000. This deficiency can, with some aid of the rye and corn crop, be made up, but who could supply to the sick and debilitated deficiency of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. There is happily always a supply of that promptly helpful medicine adequate to the relief of the dyspeptic, the constipated, the bilious and the rheumatic. It will, without interruption, continue to build up the weak, to protect the detritus of material scourge localities from cholera and fever and kindred disorders, and to counteract a tendency to torpidity of the kidneys and bladder which it disregards, is speedily subversive of their organic health. Not only does it renew digestion, but also appetite and sleep.

May Be Prince of Ireland.

The recent visit of the Duke of York to Ireland gives rise to a rumor that it is proposed to abolish the office of Irish viceroy and establish in its stead a prince of Ireland. The scheme in detail is to create the Duke of York prince of Ireland and to have the title descend to the eldest son of each succeeding Prince of Wales. The loyal peers of Ireland and the Irish Tories of the south of Ireland would be greatly pleased, and it is probable that not a few patriotic Irishmen would find no great opposition to the plan.

amount of notoriety on account of his alleged heretical writings and the broad views which he has declared from his pulpit. Canon Gore had lived and preached without attracting special attention until, a few years ago, he appeared as editor of a series of essays entitled "Lux Mundi."

PROSPERITY.

The Bright Side of Life as Indicated by Bountiful Wheat and Cotton.

The Dark Side as Shown by the Increase of Disease—Dr. Greene's Nervura a Nation Saver.

Seven hundred million dollars increase in the value of America's wheat and cotton crops. Half as many millions more added to the value of American railway securities. Over a billion dollars distributed among the people of this prosperous country. Such is the record of the season of 1897.

This is the bright side.

What about the dark side?

Seventy-five million people.

Fifteen million children weaker than their ancestors and worse equipped for the increasing severity of the battle of life.

Nerves! Nerves!

Distracted nerves and weakened and vitiated blood make up the most serious problem which this country must solve. Scientists rather than soldiers are needed to save the nation.

Dr. GREENE'S NERVURA

For the Nerves and Blood.

The scientist who is now doing most for his fellow-men is Dr. Greene, the distinguished specialist who discovered Dr. Greene's Nervura remedy for the nerves and blood. The overwork and over-anxiety peculiar to American life are a severe drain upon the vital forces. It is this drain which Dr. Greene's Nervura counteracts. Shattered nerves are strengthened, weakened blood is vitalized, and the whole physical and mental system restored to its original power and activity.

Nervous prostration and morbid susceptibility to excitement are removed by this great remedy, together with such symptoms as melancholia, sleeplessness, irritability, nervous dyspepsia and headaches.

If you do not fully understand your case, call or write for consultation and advice, which can be had absolutely free of charge, at the office of Dr. Greene's remedies, 748 State St., Chicago, Ill.

Philadelphia Doorways.

Such doorways have their histories unquestionably, but they are lost in the dust of the past. Who designed the well proportioned panels, who fashioned the brass knocker and whose taste devised the simple decorations will never be divulged. The owner has likewise passed into oblivion, leaving only the speechless door behind to awaken the curiosity and stimulate the emulation of newer generations.

If the Germantown doorways were plain almost to severity, those in the city proper were often more decorated with the various beautiful devices of the colonial period. Among these the fanlight was almost universally employed, and besides adding an ornamental appearance to the exterior furnished often the high light for the hall within.

In designing it is well for a decorator to know when to stop and to have the courage to do so. This virtue the post Revolutionary architect possessed to a marked degree, as is exemplified in the doorway described. The fanlight supported by two square columns, the merest suggestion of carving and a short wreath over the door were all that was essential to make an attractive entrance, therefore, having done this much, he dared to stop, although many plain surfaces remained upon which his skill might well have been displayed. MAKING OVER.

Renovating Sleeves and Skirts—How to Alter the Bodice.

This is the time of year when a general overhauling of the wardrobe is necessary in order to ascertain what must be bought for fresh wear and what that is already on hand may be made over in the prevailing mode. When fashion decrees diminishing dimensions, it is always comparatively easy to rejuvenate old gowns, and as skirts, and especially sleeves, are growing steadily smaller, the task of making old clothes "a la mode" is not at present a very difficult one.

The sleeves are the most important thing about the bodice. If they are large and assertive, as they will be if they are last year's models, they must be taken out, ripped to pieces and pressed, and then recut by one of the new patterns, being made very close and tight except just at the top, where there is a slight fullness. Quite likely there will be enough of the goods left from the recutting to make small shoulder caps or epaulets. The sleeves may be round at the waist instead of extending over the hand, and may be trimmed to match the bodice, with revers or galloon or whatever decoration is preferred.

The collar of the bodice remains straight and high, but is no longer decorated with bunches at the sides. A cravat bow of some kind in front is most often seen, although bows at the back of the neck are also still worn. The neck frill, of lace, mousseline or whatever stuff is employed, is usually higher behind than in front.

Blouse effects in front are much seen. Of course it is impossible to convert a tight bodice into a blouse unless entirely new fronts are made, but a loose corsage can be altered to suit the mode by trimming it with horizontal bands of bias goods, of galloon or of lace over silk, under which the dress goods are pieced out to make it long enough to give the blouse appearance at the waist. The basque, if there is one, is added separately and need not be cut in one with the corsage, since the belt conceals the junction.

Today's sketch illustrates a coiffure for a middle aged woman which is graceful and dignified. The hair is parted in the middle and waved throughout, and is then gathered together at the crown of the head, where it is twisted and brought forward in a torsade. A small ornament of black velvet is placed in front.

MATERIALS.

Flat Trimmings—Sleeves and Capes—A Handsome Ball Dress.

Velvet will be much employed this winter for costumes, outer wraps and trimmings. Both plain and fancy velvets are seen, plaid, ribbed, dotted, striped, printed and threaded with lines of metal. Plain and ribbed cloths are likewise fashionable, and heavy, shaggy wools, chevrons and moire poplins are also worn in abundance. Red, green, dark blue, suede and chamois are among the favorite colors, and many plaids, of all styles and colors, are seen.

Moire velvet is to be particularly noted among trimming materials. It comes in charming colors, and is used for collars, cuffs and revers of blouses and jackets. Galloon, mohair braid and round or flat cords are among the correct trimmings for winter gowns, jackets and wraps.

Among silk materials changeable moire, satin duchesse, faille, silk poplin and a new goods called muscotte satin enjoy distinguished consideration. This last named material will be much employed for blouses, which have not yet abandoned the field by any means, and it is also used for trimming gowns of velvet or faille.

Galloon of gold, steel and silver and cords and braids of mingled colors are favored for embroidering elegant jackets. They form trefils, squares, lozenges or simulate a bolero, belt or yoke, or serve to cover the seams. Incrustations of light satin, embroidered, are also very pretty.

Since the diminution of sleeves many less caps are seen, but nevertheless this style of wrap is by no means abandoned.

The illustration given today shows a princess ball costume. It is of black satin, the décolletage being square and cut to fall off the shoulders. The bodice consists of a ruffle of white lace, embroidered with gold, headed by a narrow band of black feather trimming. The straps over the shoulders are of steel, gold and pearl. The sleeves consist of small puffs of satin.

Trade Opinions on Kid Gloves.

With reference to this question a prominent importer said: "Some importers claim the ability to provide a prime German lamb glove to sell at $1 next season. The profit on this glove, even before the change of tariff, was very small, and to sell such gloves, in view of the advanced duty, at the same figures is impossible."

Another says: "In my opinion there are but two courses open: either the retailer will have to pay more money for a good German lamb, in view of the firm if not advancing foreign market, or sell a higher-priced glove. This state of affairs on the other side seems remarkable from a theoretical standpoint, but unfortunately the importer in Europe today is confronted not by a theory but by a condition."

That Kid Gloves will be higher is an undisputed fact, but as the policy of this store is to give a bargain when it gets one, today's announcement of a Kid Glove Sale on the basis of old prices will enable the ladies to procure a season's supply at as low prices as were ever named for reliable gloves.
